

An International Scene

There are 247 million cars and light trucks on America's roads and an increasing number are Asian and European imports. The import population is reaching the point where they are rapidly approaching the 50% mark. So that surely makes US highway traffic international in scope. It's worth noting that the average age of these 247 million vehicles is 11.4 years, the oldest it has ever been.

The NPR International Connection

NPR is a multinational company with manufacturing plants in Asia and the United States. We design and make OE piston rings for American, Asian and European brands. These are NPR's renowned thin metric rings that OEM engineers specify exclusively. Our aftermarket replacement rings match the same materials and surface treatments as the rings we make for car companies.

Our website contains an online catalog that lists aftermarket applications.
